UNFAIR WAR METHODS

Protests on Russia's Recent Action

IN SET MINES IN OPEN SEA

English Admiral Declares That There is Nothing in International Law to Warrant It.

London, May 24.—The reported actions of the Russians at Port Arthur in placing submerged mines in various parts of the Yellow Sea and Gulf of Pechili, thus putting all shipping in those localities in jeopardy, has aroused considerable protest in semi-official circles. The act is characterized as contrary to all rules of civilized warfare and as cruel and barbarous.

The Times this morning prints a letter from Admiral Delfoy, which deals with the matter at considerable length. The admiral expresses the hope that some qualified international jurist will publicly state where the laying of mines in an open sea is admissible by law of the nations.

Sir William Walcott, M. P., speaking at Deauville yesterday, expressed a like opinion. He said this act of the Russians did not come within the scope of fair warfare, and he hoped prompt action would be taken to put stop to such a practice.

London, May 24.—St. Petersburg correspondent of the Central News wires that the Red Cross society has a report of a Japanese defeat, and the casualties are the same as those given in the Housse report of the Port Arthur fight current yesterday, namely, 15,000 Japanese casualties and 3,000 Russian. The Central News reports place the fight at Feng Wang Cheng.

Bennett-Moulton Co.

For real merit in acting, high order of plays, excellence in vaudeville features and manner of presentation the Bennett-Moulton Co. which will be at the opera house all this week undoubtedly is far superior to any similar organization on the road. This company has been in existence 20 years, and has made a reputation that is second to none. It never advertises anything which it is not capable of doing and by this mode has gained the confidence of our theatre going public and they never fail to respond heartily. We feel certain that the same will hold good this year and shall be glad to see all of our friends.

SHALL WE HAVE BAND CONCERTS?

Balance of $15.90 Left Over From Last Year's Fund—Season For Concerts is Here.

This weather causes the question to be asked: Are we to have any band concerts this season?

Last season a number of band concerts were given, the money for the same being secured on subscription, several citizens going about the city soliciting the same. The two local papers also received contributions. No one man was made treasurer, but one concert was paid from a fund in the hands of one party and another from money in the hands of another party. At the close of the season the final bills were brought to this office to be paid and the Times gathered in the balances from others and settled the accounts.

From the fact that so many collected and handled the money the Times is unable to tell how much was collected last year, or how much was paid out, but it still has a balance on hand of $15.90, and one subscription for last year still uncollected.

The Times would suggest that the Montpelier Military band, which gave the concert last season, give a concert next week, taking a collection as was done at several of the concerts last year. None of these collections ever equalled the expense of a concert, but with what is on hand enough surely would be collected for the first one, and if the audience was a little more liberal it might leave a balance large enough to ensure trying a second one.

ARRESTED FOR VAGRANCY.

James Hogan Who Said He Walked From Barre to Burlington.

Burlington, May 24.—A man who said his name was James Hogan and who declared he had walked from Barre, pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy, in city court yesterday. He did not have the appearance of a tramp. He said he walked down from Barre a few days ago and while en route somebody stole his good trousers. This was by way of apology for the shabby ones he was wearing. His object in coming to these parts was to get a job at Fort Ethan Allen. He arrived in that vicinity about evening and took refuge for the night in a barn, where he was arrested. Justice Stearns gave him not less than one and a half months at the House of Correction, or more than two.

BISHOP DAY RESIGNS.

His Place Not Now to Be Filled By Methodists.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 23.—The most sensational incident of the Methodist General Conference, occurred today in the resignation of Bishop James R. Day of Syracuse, N. Y. His resignation was accepted by the conference. The conference then voted to indefinitely postpone the election of a successor to Dr. Day on the Episcopal Board, and this action was taken to mean that there will be no balloting for an eighth bishop by this conference, and that the board will remain as at present constituted.

HIS FRIENDS STILL HOPE

Believe Harvey Kingsley is Alive

BUT NOT IN RIGHT MIND

Statement Made Today Shows That He Sustained Accident to Head Recently.

Rutland, May 24.—Harvey R. Kingsley of this city, brother of Harry Baxter Kingsley, the wealthy young Rutland man who has been missing ever since November 14, last, today gave out some information regarding his brother which has never before been published and which may in a measure account for the strange disappearance.

Mr. Kingsley places no credence in the theory that his brother met with foul play which has generally been accepted by the police in various cities of the country, and states that in his opinion Henry became suddenly somewhat demented and in that condition wandered away into some distant place and is perhaps living in ignorance of his own identity. He says that his reason for thinking that Henry may have lost his reason is Henry's condition four years ago as the result of an accident.

At the time the accident happened, four years ago, Henry was at New Haven with his millionaire cousin, Hugh H. Baxter, formerly of Rutland, and the two men were riding in a carriage. The rig collided with an electric car and Henry was thrown violently to the pavement, receiving a terrible blow in the head, which rendered him unconscious for a time and unbalanced his reason for several weeks. He afterwards apparently recovered entirely from the effects of the affair, but the Kingsley family believe that a clot formed on the brain last fall as a result of this accident and that his wandering away may be accounted for in that manner.

The reward of $10,000 which has just been offered for information as to the whereabouts of Mr. Kingsley has stimulated the police of nearly all the large cities in the country to exert themselves in making a search for the missing man and the family are very hopeful of obtaining some tangible clue before the reward expires on the first of August.

RANDOLPH WOMAN MISSING.

Miss Maude Hatch Disappeared. Was Not Tally Unbalanced.

Randolph, May 23.—Miss Maude Hatch, daughter of the town clerk, Edgar Hatch, disappeared from the home of James Haddock Sunday afternoon after one o'clock. She was supposed to have gone to her father's house, but was missed this morning not being found at her home. She left letters to a sister saying not to look for her as she was going away but not to worry about her, she would not commit suicide. For several months her mind has not been quite right. She appeared to be insane over religion.

Unorganized searching parties have hunted the river banks for two miles, but no reliable clues resulted. The night operator at the station said that he sold a ticket to White River Junction last night to a woman answering the description given and further search in this vicinity has been suspended. Miss Hatch was 34 years old, of slight build, weighed 100 pounds, and had dark hair and eyes. Messages have been sent to places where she would most likely visit.

Chas. Lawson of Montpelier Assailed.

Montpelier, May 23.—Charles Lawson, freeman at Egan's stone shed, telephoned to the police station from the stone shed about 8:30 Sunday night that he had been assaulted in Barre street near Frontin's house. Officer Durkee went up on an electric car to investigate. Mr. Lawson was run down by a man on a bicycle and says he was then struck on the face with a stone. A large number gathered about the place. The matter has been placed in the hands of Grand Juror Gates.

Ross is making headquarters at the Northern and the high altitude of the room the management assigned him to affords plenty of fresh air.

CAPT. BOND'S TRIP WEST.

Travelled Over 10,000 Miles. His New Position.

Capt. C. A. Bond, who was recently elected to the directorate of the Hackett Cold Storage Co., has returned from a flying trip to the Pacific coast in the interests of the company, and has a very interesting story to tell of his travels.

Capt. Bond left Boston April 30 and arrived in Barre on his return May 17. In this time he travelled over 10,000 miles and saw a good portion of his own country. In going west Capt. Bond went by way of Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, Kansas City, and Syracuse, Kansas, where he was detained 22 hours on account of a wash-out, 95 miles beyond at La Pinta, Colo. Four through trains were held up at Syracuse, which is a town of about 300 population, and the cowboys made a holiday of it. They gave an exhibition of their skill on horseback and when the trains finally pulled away gave them a rousing send-off. Capt. Bond arrived in Albuquerque, N. M., May 4. The trip through New Mexico was interesting in that the country is so wild and in some places barren. Thousands of sheep are to be seen grazing all along the route. The captain arrived at Barstow Junction, Calif., 28 hours late. On Friday, May 6, the captain arrived at San Francisco, where he visited the Golden Gate and surroundings which he describes as magnificent. He stopped at the Palace hotel where he met several customers and they did the town together. Saturday they left for the north. They passed over Siakiyon mountains, 4,125 feet above sea level. It required three engines to pull the train over. The trip over took the train through several tunnels and over deep canyons, while the road doubled on itself many times to make the summit. His trip through the Shasta range of mountains was something grand. While the tops were covered with snow and looked sublime in their whiteness, the foot hills and plains were covered with wild flowers and cattle were peacefully grazing over the green fields. Oregon seemed to be one great orchard, though the captain specially notes the town of Medford and the fact that there was a brewery there. It was an inspiring sight. Vegetation was more advanced through Oregon than anywhere he had thus far passed through. Sunday evening they arrived at Seattle and immediately left for Bellingham, Washington, where the plant of the Hackett Cold Storage company is being erected. They arrived late in the evening. Monday morning they met Mr. Hackett and visited the company's plant which is well under way. He was more than pleased with the same. He met the mayor of the city and several other prominent citizens and all had a good word to say for the new enterprise. All said that the company had a "clinch." Bellingham is a city of about 24,000 population, located at the extreme northwest of Washington. It has fine harbor facilities and offers every opportunity for the new enterprise.

CAPT. C. A. BOND.

On May 11 Capt. Bond left on his return trip home, via the northern Pacific, through Idaho and Montana, with their grand and picturesque scenery. The trip through Montana is over a thousand miles from Montana he passed through Dakota, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois to Chicago, and from Chicago to Boston via Michigan Central.

The Hackett Cold Storage Co. which Capt. Bond represents as one of the directors, and having visited the plant he says that prospective business will necessitate the doubling of the now large establishment. This company is entirely composed of New England capital and a large amount of the stock is owned here in Vermont. The company proposes to buy and sell and to transport to the middle west and eastern cities, fresh salmon, halibut, smelt, crabs, also butter, eggs, and all kinds of fruit, which is in abundance on the Pacific coast, and with the only cold storage car ever invented that can ship perishable goods from the Pacific to the Atlantic and guarantee their delivery in A 1 condition. The car will maintain the same degree of temperature from start to finish without recooling, carrying only three tons of ice. It is through a patent process of manipulating chemicals to produce refrigeration. No other car ever invented can ship perishable goods without carrying from eight to ten tons of ice and maintaining cooling stations every four or five hundred miles, therefore this car can ship the goods three hundred per cent cheaper than any other. It is the intention of the company to build up a transportation business that will require many hundred cars. Capt. Bond will take an active part in the management of the business.

The plant is located at Bellingham, Washington, on Bellingham Bay, Pacific coast, and is nearly completed. The capacity of cold storage is immense, one room for butter where twelve million pounds can be taken care of, another where three hundred thousand pounds of fish can be frozen and stacked. Other large rooms for fruit and eggs, also another for beef, etc. The company has the only ice plant on the coast, and the capacity is one hundred and fifty tons per day. Capt. Bond has a large portrait of the plant which can be seen by calling on him. He will make Bellingham his headquarters as soon as the work of shipping begins.

PROMINENT CITIZENS

Ex-Alderman Waterman of Montpelier Dead.

DR. L. C. WAKEFIELD ALSO

Former Was a Native of Orange and a War Veteran—Latter Was a Well-known Veterinarian.

Montpelier, May 24.—Ex-Alderman W. F. Waterman, one of the well-known citizens of this city, died very suddenly last night at his home on the Berlin side, after having passed the day apparently in the best of health. Yesterday forenoon he went to Barre, and during the afternoon and evening seemed to be unusually well. At 11 o'clock last night his wife was awakened by his sudden gasping for breath. She immediately notified Dr. Newcomb, who resides next door, but by the time the doctor had arrived, Mr. Waterman had breathed his last.

The deceased was born in the town of Orange, February 18, 1840. He was twice married, in 1868 to Mary L. Bradshaw, who died in 1895; the second time, to Mrs. Emma D. Bates, of Cavendish. One sister, Mrs. Orrin Daley, also survives him. He served in Co. F, 6th Vermont regiment, and was wounded in the battle of the Wilderness, being mustered out in 1864. For a long time he conducted a grocery store and was later town liquor agent for Berlin. He had also been lister, selectman and grand juror. He served two terms in the Montpelier city council. Mr. Waterman was a member of Brooks Post, G. A. R. New England Order of Protection, Vermont Lodge of Odd Fellows and Thomas Wilsey Encampment.

The funeral will be held from the Methodist church Thursday afternoon, the Rev. W. B. Dukeshire officiating.

HE RAN FOR TRAIN AND LOST HIS LIFE

Dr. L. C. Wakefield of Montpelier Died of Heart Failure at Waterbury This Forenoon.

Montpelier, May 24.—The community was shocked this forenoon to hear of the death at Waterbury of Dr. L. C. Wakefield of this city, who went to that place today to attend a horse of Bart Hennessey. The cause of death was heart failure, caused undoubtedly by the doctor's exertion in running to catch the 9 o'clock train from Montpelier this morning. He barely caught the train. He was attending the horse when stricken, walking behind it in the yard of Rev. Fr. Lynch and carrying some ropes, etc. He dropped to the ground without warning.

Dr. Wakefield was born in the vicinity of Montpelier and had spent his whole life here, being 42 years of age. He was graduated from the American Veterinary school. He leaves a wife, his father, Morrison Wakefield and an uncle, Christopher, all of this city. The funeral arrangements have not been completed.

ENJOYABLE RECITAL.

Two Goddard Students, With Mrs. Terrill, Gave It.

Miss Grace Edith Brown, '04, and Miss Blanche Edith Beld, '04, gave a piano recital in the chapel at Goddard seminary last evening, assisted by Mrs. Kate E. Terrill, reader, of Montpelier. The recital was one of the most enjoyable that has been given at the seminary this year. The piano selections by Miss Brown and Miss Beld were classical and were rendered with fine expression and technique.

The readings by Mrs. Terrill were excellent and added much to the enjoyment of the recital.

The chapel was well filled with people, whose hearty applause gave evidence of their enjoyment and appreciation.

A HAPPY OCCASION.

Mr. and Mrs. James Milne of Carleton St., 15 Years Married.

The fifteenth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Milne of Carleton street, was celebrated last evening by between sixty and seventy of their friends who called at their home. As a tangible reminder of the happy occasion Mr. and Mrs. Milne were presented a fine oak side-board, the presentation speech being made by James D. Grant and responded to by Mr. Milne. The party spent the evening in a very pleasant manner.

TO GRANITE MANUFACTURERS.

The manufacturers in Barre are requested to keep their granite chips separated as much as possible, the large chips from the small. The street commissioners wish to use them on the streets. Put them where teams can be loaded to best advantage. Per order Street Commissioners.

Notice to Granite Cutters.
